

The Eretz-Ard Political Framework

The United Federation of Israel and Palestine Constitution and Governance Design:

The Eretz-Ard Political Framework is a proposal to resolve the Israeli Palestinian Conflict by means of a Federal Political model. This solution is meant to provide full equality for both the Jewish and Palestinian people on both individual and collective levels. The key principles are unity of the land and recognition of the connection of both peoples' historic and cultural ties to the entire land, while providing cultural autonomy for both people within a Federal Political Framework.

The Framework refers to this proposal as “The United Federation of Israel and Palestine” for the purpose of the model. However, the name is not a critical aspect of the proposal. We offer suggested names in both Arabic and Hebrew: Itihad il Muqadas lil Filasteen U'Israil and Ihud Hakodesh l'Israel U'Filasteen, respectively. These are potential examples for the model subject to debate. Within the framework of the proposal any person may refer to the entire country as either Israel or Palestine.

Preamble:

The Jewish and Palestinian people believe that the fundamental principles of justice, equality and peace are the birthright of all humankind; it is our destiny to share these sacred values with all people. We believe that all people can and deserve to have all their hopes and aspirations for themselves, their nation, culture and heritage fulfilled in a fair and equitable way. We must set an example demonstrating how two peoples with different cultures, languages and histories can share one land and one future together as brothers and sisters. For this we embark to establish the United Federation of Israel and Palestine in the land of Israel-Palestine.

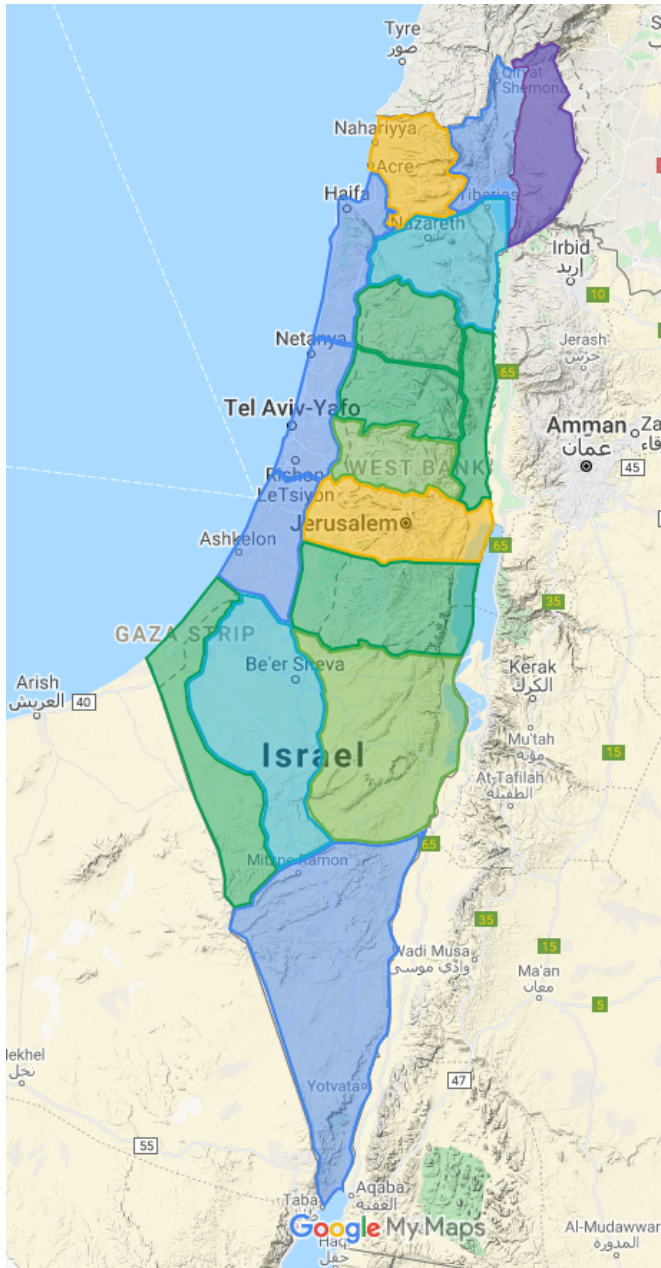

We the People of the United Federation of Israel and Palestine, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United Federation of Israel and Palestine.

Article 1 - Structure of the Federation

1. The United Federation of Israel and Palestine, or the Federation, is a single and united country on all the lands of Israel-Palestine, herein comprising the lands of the former British Mandate of Palestine and the Golan Heights. The future status of the Golan Heights will be resolved in negotiations between the Federation, Syria and Lebanon.
2. The people of Israel-Palestine are composed of two National Groups, The Jewish and Palestinian peoples, as well as any legal citizen of the Federation regardless of origin. The Jewish and Palestinian people will both be considered native and Indigenous to all of Israel-Palestine with all due National Indigenous Rights. These rights include self determination, preservation of culture and all other rights ascribed to them in the Bill of Rights for Israel-Palestine.
3. The official languages of the Federation are Hebrew and Arabic.
4. The Federation is composed of independently ruled subdivisions of the land of Israel-Palestine herein referred to as States. The States will have legislative and judicial powers as laid out in this constitution. Each State will send representatives to the Federal Government elected by the people of that State. The Federal government will be able to pass laws binding on the entire federation so long as they are in accordance with their powers as described in this constitution.

This constitution will describe the Federation in the form of sixteen states. The State of Jerusalem will contain the united city of Jerusalem which serves as the undivided capital of the Federation and the seat of the Federal Government. The members of the Senate will be elected as representatives from these states.

Article 2 - the States

1. The States are sovereign entities to the extent that their sovereignty is not limited by Federal law. Each State will have its own constitution created by the people of that state in accordance with Federal Law. They will have a government consisting of a legislature, an executive, police and courts. The following powers will be exclusively granted to the Federal Government: the armed forces, currency, postal service, telecommunications, immigration into the country as a whole, granting asylum, conducting foreign relations with sovereign states, Federal civil and criminal law, weights and measures, and customs duties as described in this constitution. All other activities are the jurisdiction of the State Governments so long as they do not contradict federal law.
2. Each State will have the responsibility for creating its own democratic State Constitution in accordance with federal law, providing for full democratic representation of all legal residents of the State. The Constitution of a State requires the approval of the people of the State and can be revised upon the request of the majority of those eligible to vote in that State.
3. The State Government will have ownership of all public land in the State in accordance with federal law, be responsible for collecting property taxes and tariffs in the State, be responsible for education, policing, local law enforcement, adjudication of local law and providing basic services to all residents of the State.
4. Citizens may only exercise political rights in their state of residence and in no more than one State at a time.
5. Freedom of movement within and between all states is guaranteed for all citizens and legal residents of the Federation. Immigration into a State for permanent residency will be done as follows with cooperation between the States and the Federal Government.

Article 2.2 - Immigration to a State

1. Any person who has been a citizen of the Federation for at least five years will be considered a Veteran Citizen. Anyone who was a citizen of the State of Israel, a permanent resident in the State of Israel or a permanent resident of the Palestinian territories prior to the founding of the Federation will also be considered a Veteran citizen. All Veteran Citizens are free to live in any State of the federation of their choosing and receive all due rights immediately. At any time veteran citizens may move to another State and immediately be considered a resident of that State.
2. Any person immigrating to the Federation either under the Laws of Return, described as Hoq Il Awda and Aliya in the Bill of Rights for the Federation will be considered a New Immigrant for the term of five years, after which time they will be considered a Veteran Citizen.

3. Each State, in agreement with the Federal Government and Federal law, has the authority to control the Immigration to their State of a fair number of New Immigrants from each National Group for a given year. A New Immigrant must register with a State that they wish to reside in in addition to the Federal Government. States may create their own list of criteria for acceptance within the limits of this constitution and Federal law.
4. A New Immigrant living in one state that wishes to move to another state must apply to immigrate to the state which they wish to move to and will be subject to a similar approval process as any other new immigrant.
5. A Home State may limit the number of New Immigrants they accept from each National Group such that their National group may attempt to maintain a significant demographic majority in that State. A Mixed State with a particular majority may limit the number of New Immigrants they accept from each National Group such that their National group may attempt to maintain a minor demographic majority in that State. The Mixed States of Jerusalem-Al Quds and Akka-Asher may limit the number of New Immigrants they accept from each National Group such that they accept a similar number of New Immigrants from each National Group on an annual basis.
6. These rights may in no way be construed to give the States any power to discriminate in any way against any Veteran Citizen of the Federation or any New Immigrant or Permanent Resident lawfully residing in their State.

Article 2.3 - Number of States and Territory of the States

1. The Federation shall protect the existence and territory of the States.
2. Any change in the number of States requires the consent of the citizens and the governments of the States concerned as well as with the approval of the Federal Government.
3. The number and boundaries of States shall be arranged and delineated in a manner that preserves an equity of representation between the two National Groups in the Federal Government.
4. Any change in territory between States requires the consent of both the governments of the States concerned as well as the approval of the Federal Government in the form of a Federal Decree.

Article 2.4 - Limitations of State Power

1. No State shall enter into any Treaty, Alliance, or Confederation with a foreign state; declare war or reprisal; coin or print Money; emit Bills of Credit; make anything but gold and silver coin a Tender in Payment of Debts; pass any Bill of Attainder, ex post facto Law, or Law impairing the Obligation of Contracts, or grant any Title of Nobility.
2. No State shall, without the Consent of the Federal Government, lay any Taxes or Duties on Imports or Exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing it's inspection Laws: and the net Produce of all Duties and Taxes, laid by any State on Imports or Exports, shall be for the Use of the Treasury of the Federation; and all such Laws shall be subject to the Revision and Control of the Federal Government.
3. No State shall, without the Consent of The Federal Government, keep Troops, or machinery of War in time of Peace, enter into any Agreement or Compact with another State, or with a foreign Power, or engage in War, unless actually invaded, or in such imminent Danger as will not allow for delay.

Article 3 - Immigration to the Federation

1. Immigration law in the Federation will be determined in collaboration between the States and the Federal Government.
2. The Federal Government will ensure that overall immigration laws allow for the preservation of relative parity between the two National Groups.
3. Overall limits on immigration on a yearly basis will be set for persons of each National Group such that a similar number of persons from each National Group will be allowed to immigrate under the Laws of Return, Alliya and Hok Il Awda, each year.
4. The Federal Government will regulate the number of immigrants from any origin besides one of the two National Groups on a yearly basis for the purpose of preserving the Self Determination of the National Groups.
5. Exceptions to the previous two clauses can be made in extenuating circumstances such as the physical danger or persecution of any group or member of a one of the National Groups in any region of the world without prejudice.

Article 4 - Legislative Branch of the Federation - The Federal Government

All legislative Powers granted here shall be vested in The Federal Government, the Legislative Branch of which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives. The Legislative Branch, in addition to the Judicial and the Executive Branches will comprise the Federal Government.

Article 4.1 - The Senate

1. The Senate of the Federation shall be composed of four Senators from each State. Senators will be elected by the citizens of the Federation lawfully residing in that State for six year year terms. Each Senator shall have one Vote in the Senate.
2. The senators shall be assembled following the first election and sorted into three groups. The seats of the Senators of the first group shall be vacated at the end of the second year, of the second group at the end of the fourth Year, and of the third group at the end of the sixth year. This system will result in one third of the Senators being chosen every second Year. If vacancies arise by resignation, or otherwise, during the recess of the legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.
3. No Person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty Years, and been Five Years a Citizen of the Federation or a citizen at the time of the founding of the Federation, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State for which he shall be chosen.
4. The Chairman of the Federation shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no Vote, unless they are equally divided.
5. The Senate shall choose their other Officers, and also an alternative President, in the Absence of the Chairman, or when the Chairman shall exercise the Office of President of the Federation.
6. The Senate shall have the sole Power to try all Impeachments. When sitting for that Purpose, they shall be on Oath or Affirmation. When the President of the Federation is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside: And no Person shall be convicted without the agreement of two thirds of the Members present.
7. Judgment in Cases of impeachment shall not extend further than to removal from Office, and disqualification to hold and enjoy any Office of honor, Trust or Profit under the Federation: but the Party convicted shall nevertheless be liable and subject to Indictment, Trial, Judgment and Punishment, according to Law.

Article 4.2 - The House of Representatives

1. The House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of each State.
2. No Person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the Age of 25 Years, and been Five Years a Citizen of the Federation or a citizen at the time of the founding of the Federation, and who shall not, when elected, be an Inhabitant of that State in which he was chosen.

3. Representatives are elected based on electoral districts that are found within a State, the boundaries of these districts will be proposed by the state legislature in accordance with federal law and then confirmed by the Federal Government.
4. A Representative will be granted to each state to be elected by the districts and will be granted for every 100,000 people who reside within each State, States will be granted one additional representative for a minimum of 10,000 persons over the number of people in the State that is divisible by 100,000. Each State will receive a minimum of one representative even if they have less than 100,000 persons within their State. These districts will be drawn up in such a way that will give representation to significant minority groups within a State as well as the majority group in that State in relative proportion to its population and status as either a Home or Mixed State.
5. If a district has less than 100,000 persons residing within it two or more districts of the same type, either Jewish Majority, Palestinian Majority, Druze Majority or Mixed can vote together to elect a Representative for them.
6. If one of the National groups in a State does not have at least 100,000 people in that state then they can have one representative for all of their Districts, either Mixed or otherwise, combined provided that the majority National Group in that state also has at least one Representative as well out of the number of Representatives provided for that State within the laws of this Constitution.
7. A State can request and recommend a redistricting of the districts within the State at any time subject to approval by the Federal Government.
8. The Distribution of the seats in the House of Representatives given to each District within a State will be proposed by the state legislature representing a fair and even distribution of the seats and will be subject to approval by the Federal Government.
9. In districts with only one representative, if no representative candidate wins a clear majority then a runoff election will be held between the top two candidates.
10. When vacancies happen in the Representation from any State, the Executive Authority thereof shall call an Election to fill the Vacancies.
11. The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other Officers; and shall have the sole Power of Impeachment.

Article 4.3 - Functioning of the Federal Government

1. The Times, Places and Manner of holding Elections for Senators and Representatives, shall be determined in each State by the Legislature thereof; but the Federal Government may at any time by Law make or alter such Regulations.
2. Each House shall be the Judge of the Elections, Returns and Qualifications of its own Members, and a Majority of each shall constitute a Quorum to do Business; but a smaller Number may adjourn from day to day, and may be authorized to compel the Attendance of absent Members, in such Manner, and under such Penalties as each House may provide.
3. Each House may determine the Rules of its Proceedings, punish its Members for disorderly Behaviour, and, with the agreement of two thirds, expel a Member.
4. Each House shall keep a record of its Proceedings, and from time to time publish these records and the votes of the Members of either House on any question shall be entered in the Journal.
5. Neither House, during the Session of Federal Government, shall, without the Consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other Place than that in which the two Houses shall be sitting.
